About

Hi!

I hope all is well!

My name is Eve and I am a London based fashion and brand photographer.

In 2019, I switched careers from being a diplomat to becoming a photographer. I studied at the Dubai Fashion Institute, and have since led collaboration shoots and freelance jobs.

I am currently capable to:

Plan and arrange photoshoots

Edit photography (Lightroom + Photoshop)

Create a team of professionals (models, stylists, etc) for different objectives

Please fill free to contact me to discuss any project you have in mind!

Regards,

Eve

● Research Intern

Care | Apr 2013 - Jun 2013

Internship experience with the international NGO CARE (EMPHASIS project) as a part of my Dissertation for obtaining MSc degree at the University of Edinburgh helped me to get a broad practical knowledge of the HIV and AIDS, and migration issues in Nepal as well as around the Globe. Working in the remote town in the least developed region of Nepal opened quite a perspective on my skills and personal characteristics. Main responsibilities included: documentation of the latest achievements, proof-reading of the documents composed by other team members, data collection and analysis (focus-group discussions, personal structured and semi-structured interviews), research on the project's location within academia, advice on the future planning process. Results of the internship answered CARE's demands and I have been invited to continue our cooperation in future by writing articles for the on-line EMPHASIS journal.
