About

As a Creative Graphic Designer at RED OX FASHION, I conceptualise and execute designs that are both functional and visually appealing. I collaborate with the digital marketing team to optimize campaigns using performance data and user insights. I also maintain brand guidelines and ensure visual assets uphold brand consistency across channels. I leverage my strong knowledge of traditional design principles while challenging conventions when appropriate.

I have a MFA in Interactive Arts and Experience Design from Edinburgh Napier University, where I developed my skills in web design, graphic design, and Figma. I also have a MA in International Events Management from The Manchester Metropolitan University, where I learned about meeting and event planning. I have been working as a freelance graphic designer since 2020, working with various brands on variety of briefs. I helped to position their brand image through credible branding and design, and increased their business size and revenue. I have a passion for creating designs that provide a seamless user experience and meet user needs and expectations. I'm always keeping up with the latest trends and technologies in the field and am excited to incorporate them into my work. I'm a dedicated and hardworking designer who is eager to grow and develop my skills.
