About

With a Master's degree in Luxury & Fashion Management and over 10 years of industry expertise, I currently serve as Global Visual Merchandising Manager at KARL LAGERFELD. In this role, I shape and uphold the VM brand image across diverse markets and channels. My approach blends cultural insight with managerial acumen, underpinned by a commitment to technical excellence, creativity, and meticulous attention to aesthetics.

My responsibilities encompass overseeing the visual merchandising of store interiors and windows, designing innovative creative spaces, and managing pivotal aspects such as store openings, refits, pop-ups, and brand events. I develop and adapt monthly guidelines to suit varying market dynamics, manage budgets, campaign assets, and strategic prop distribution in collaboration with partners.

As a proactive leader and role model, I lead by example, fostering a high-performing VM team through effective leadership, people management, and strategic vision. I am dedicated to enhancing brand perception as a true ambassador, optimizing visual props, training staff, recommending new collection purchases, and driving sales growth.

Skills: Management, network management, analyses & negotiation, business acumen, drive for results, international abilities. Visual Merchandising, brand image, impeccable taste, creativity and problem solving, sharpness for details, digital.
