About

Hi, I'm a Graphic Designer based in Rome, Italy. After completing my studies I specialized in Editorial and Print Design. Initially with an apprenticeship as an editorial graphic designer in the Roman publishing house "Orecchio Acerbo", very well known internationally and winner of numerous world awards including "Best publishing house of illustrated books in Europe" in 2017 during the BOP International Festival.

Then in 2017 I started another graphic design apprenticeship in Bologna, in the Studio Lizart, where I had the opportunity to work with graphic design projects of all kinds: from brand design, to advertising, editorial design, graphics for events, photographic compositing, typography.

At that time I also started collaborating with the online magazine Fjord Review, taking care of the entire creative direction and design of their first printed edition, which I am still in charge of in its fifth issue on 2022. In the spring of 2019 I moved back to Rome, where I founded my design studio, Ulisse Studio, together with the two co-founders Lorenzo D'Ippolito and Gianfilippo Gustinucci.

With Ulisse Studio we have collaborated with both private clients and large companies such as Doppelgänger, Discovery, Federunacoma (Italian Agricultural Machinery Manufacturers Federation), Lobra, FPA and many others. Furthermore, since 2019 I am a lecturer at the Academy of Arts and New Technologies. I taught Computer Graphics for 2 years, and in 2021 I started teaching Lateral Thinking in the course "Creative thinking: changing the shape of our ideas".

In 2020 I started an online art project called "archetypical", in which I design evocative visuals using techniques of photographic compositing and digital collage. For more details: https:// www.instagram.com/archetypical/
