Designer & Creative Director

Hannah Martin | May 2005 - Now

Having founded Hannah Martin Ltd in 2005, I have spent the following years exploring and refining my own design processes and visual identity within my work.

I have worked tirelessly to build a brand with integrity and standing within the luxury market.

Alongside my role as Creative Director of my own brand, I continue to work on specific consultancy and design projects with a wide variety of clients - spanning fine and high jewellery, costume jewellery, catwalk collaborations, accessories and product design.

My experience within this field of design allows me to use my skill of understanding a brand's DNA and exploiting my own excellent design and visual language understanding to create truly unique and brand-sensitive projects for my clients.
