About

Prior to starting this exciting journey at Dweet, I worked in the recruitment industry for over 18 years. I've had the pleasure of working internationally with a diverse group of people, serving many different customers. I've learned that organisations are looking for more agility in their workforce to help them navigate and succeed in such a competitive business environment. At the same time an increasing number of people are looking for a different career journey, many of them prioritising flexibility above compensation or status.

Experience

● Partner

Coldpress Foods Ltd | Sep 2019 - Now

Coldpress is a London based HPP drinks company specialising in juices and smoothies. We produce our products in Spain and distribute to customers in the UK, Europe, Middle East & Asia.

I have been an investor and shareholder in Coldpress since early 2015 but in the second half of 2019 I became more involved, supporting the focus and direction of the business. We recently went through a brand and product refresh, please check us out at <https://www.cold-press.com/>

● Co-founder of Dweet

Dweet. | Nov 2019 - Now

Dweet is a talent consultancy for the luxury & fashion industry. We provide advisory and flexible resource solutions to help premium brands optimise the retail teams in their stores. We also offer a platform for experienced retail professionals to have more flexibility in their work-life. As co-founder of Dweet my role is broad covering; brand development, customer experience, talent management, operations and more. Check us out on <https://dweet.com>

● RVP for Allegis Group in Europe

Allegis Group | Sep 2000 - Jun 2019

As Regional Vice President for Allegis Group in Europe. I am responsible for contract and permanent recruitment services for Aston Carter, Aerotek and TEKsystems (three Allegis Group Companies). My role is developing and growing our local offices, while investigating new markets, regions or countries in which to grow our operations
