London By Design is an up and coming entertainment platform with the earnest ambition of becoming a staple contributor to and purveyor of London's rich cultural and artistic heritage. We aim to represent the higher end of emerging London based artistic talent and give it a space to organically find it's roots and grow into something which can be appreciated by a larger audience. So far, we have produced a series of short interview style films showcasing everyone from musician Cosmo Pyke and rising actress Georgia Lowe to model and poet Sonny Hall.
